In the beginning . . .

our search for knowledge
seemed unrewarding,

but it has brought us far toward a hope-filled future.

Our trek has been filled with invaluable experiences both good and bad.

The infinite possibilities which life holds, have at times left us confused and frightened, but the strength of dreams and desires keeps us striving forward.

We've learned through skillfull challenges in the present and experiences
from the past,

but most of all we've learned from each other.

For no matter what the future holds,

each of us will always cherish the memories of friends.

In the years to come, as our present becomes the past and the children of today begin their search,
we'll find ourselves
soaring to heights
unimagined.

And as we experience each breaking dawn and strive toward each new horizon,

our dreams will keep us always moving beyond time and space . . .

toward a future in the clouds.

Welcome Back Party

The annual Welcome Back Party put on by the Lancer Society and held Friday September 12, was the first social event of the year. It gave students who had not seen each other all summer the opportunity of renewing old friendships and meeting new friends. Along with socializing and beer, dancing made the evening with music provided by "The Black Apple Band."

Homecoming/Oktoberfest

On Saturday October 11, the Lancer Society and the Alumni Association put on a combination Homecoming/Oktoberfest which was a success despite the rain. The day started with a football game against Bentley which a soggy Lancer team won 20-0. The afternoon's events were moved from outside, into the Student Union and "The Wonderful Schmaltzy German Band" provided entertainment while german food and beer were served. The Homecoming party got underway at 8:00 and featured "Citadel" a hard rock band. Jane Bernard was crowned Homecoming Queen and the dancing and drinking lasted all night.

Halloween Party

The four undergraduate classes sponsored this year's Halloween costume party on Friday October 31, in the Student Union. The dance floor was filled with costumed creatures enjoying the music of "Wildfire." Prizes were awarded for best costume in four categories: most original went to Michelle Barrier, scariest went to Don Kresinkas, best group went to eleven vikings and funniest went to Giff Campbell as Rocky Horror's Dr. Frank N. Furter.

Dallas Night

Saturday March 14, the entire first floor of the Student Union was transformed into a western setting for the Lancer Society's Dallas Night. The event included free cowboy hats, a gambling casino, movies, caricatures, old-time pictures, square dancing, beer and wine, and music featuring "Pilgrim." There was something for everyone as evidenced by the large crowd and the event was a complete success.

Jeanne French

Jeanne French performed at WSC's annual Christmas Party on December 5 in the Student Union. Her style, a combination of blues and rock 'n' roll, was dynamic and entertaining.

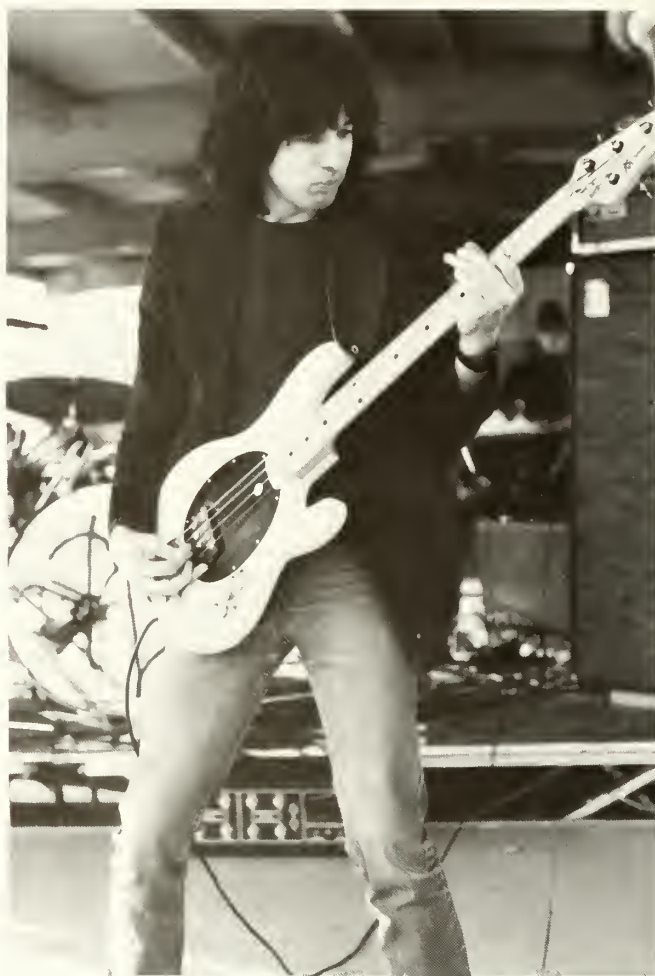

GLASS MENAGERIE

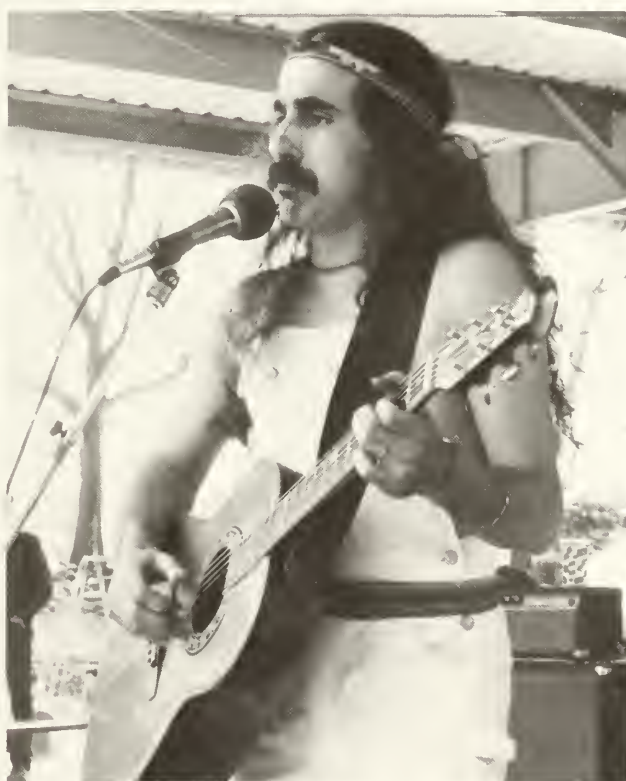

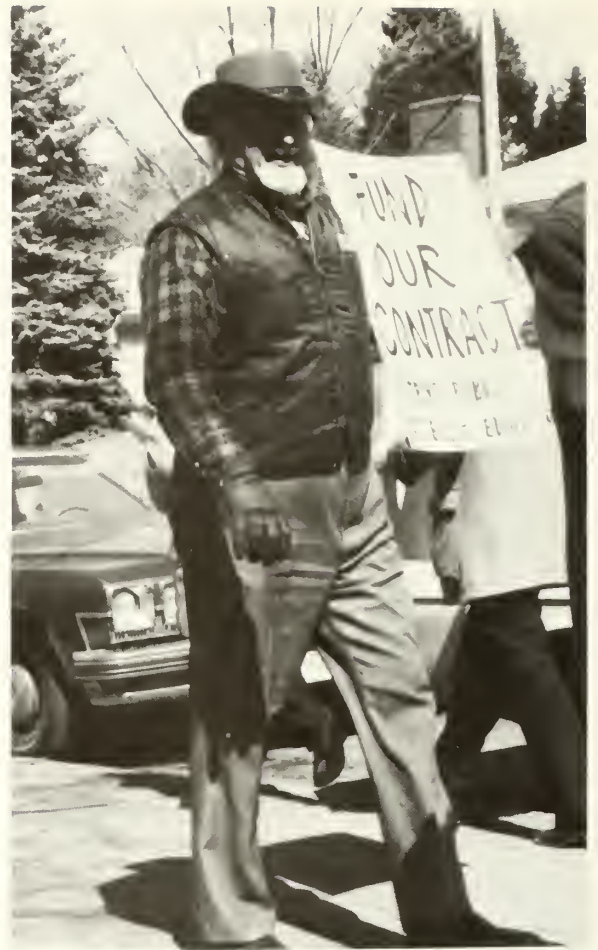

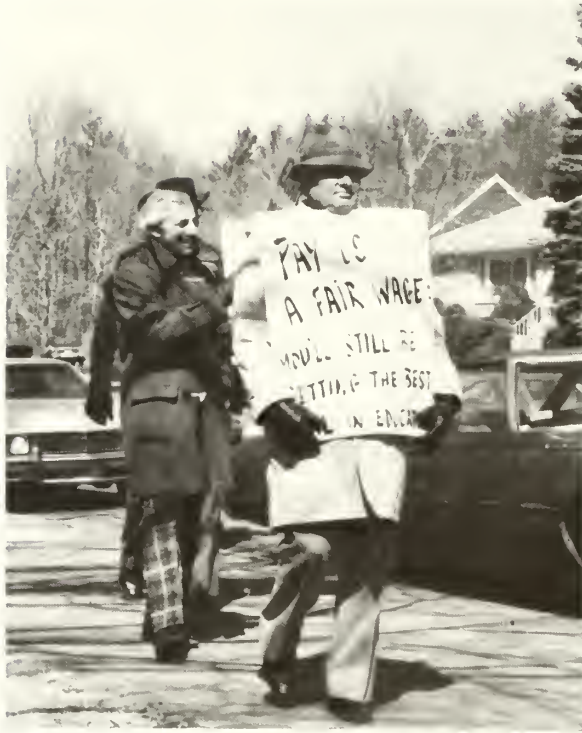

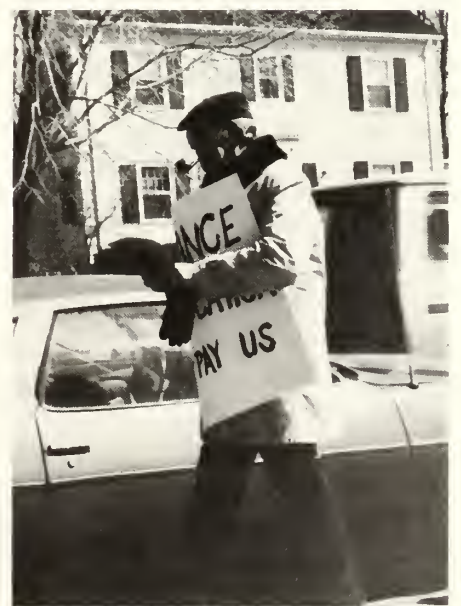

??STRIKE??

The faculty of WSC, along with those of nine other state colleges, threatened to strike more than once during this past year because of contract disputes with the governor. According to the teachers union, Governor King approved the contract itself on Nov. 6, but as late as March 9 funding for the contract had not been approved. Graduating seniors began to get nervous as rumors of graduation boycotts and withholdings of grades were heard around campus. A strike turned out to be unnecessary after the governor finally decided to act and the teacher's contract was funded.

"Afoot and light hearted I took to the open road, Healthy, free, the world before me,
The long brown path before me leading wherever I choose.
Henceforth I ask not good-fortune, I myself am good-fortune, Henceforth I whimper no more, postpone no more, need nothing
... Strong and content I travel the open road."

Walt Whitman

Each and every person that lives goes through portions of their life when they "take to the open road." It seems like only yesterday when each of us came to Worcester State College, a new place, new friends, new happenings. Now we can all look back and see the joy and the tears involved in living day-to-day. I don't think it scares us so much anymore. By now we should all have the confidence to say to ourselves "I myself am good-fortune." I believe that Walt Whitman knew what he was talking about when he wrote this poem, he saw the new beginnings people go through and reflected on them, I'm sure, hoping that we could find some truth and inspiration in his words. I believe that each of you, my classmates, has a long and prosperous life ahead if you do these things:

1. take time to think about your options,
2. don't be afraid to question,
3. take that first step.

My other class officers and myself wish you all the courage to go after your dreams, the strength to "hang in there," and the very best life has to offer. We've enjoyed the great times we've had together at WSC and realize it's time to move on.

Best wishes always,
Lauren Washer

Booze Cruise

The Booze Cruise held on Sunday May 24, was the most popular Senior Week event. The weather cooperated by providing a cool but not too cold breeze and a beautiful night for the three hour cruise around Boston Harbor. Music was provided by "Habit", who played Punk and Beatles and everyone aboard had a great time.

Senior Barbecue

On Saturday May 23, all the wine and beer you could drink and all the hamburgers, hotdogs, potato chips, cake, and watermelon you could eat were available for $3.00 at the Senior Barbeque. Music was provided by Bert Wilkinson who spun records as well as contributing some of his own general craziness to the partying moods of the seniors.

A delightful night of dinner and dancing was held at the Worcester Knights of Columbus on May 29th. Music provided by the "Black Apple Band" brought all the seniors up from their seats and onto the dance floor, and a good time was had by all.

Dinner Dance

Countdown Party

Tuesday night May 26, four days before graduation, pub singer Gordie Milne made a return trip to Worcester for the Countdown Party. Having performed at WSC's 98 Days Party in February, the seniors were primed and ready to answer Milne and his trivia questions in order to win shots of Peppermint Schnapps.

Champagne Brunch

Class of 1981 COMMENCEMENT

The commencement exercises for the Class of 1981 took place on a sunny campus football field, Saturday, May 30. The day began with a Champagne Brunch in the Student Union for graduates and their families. Next, at 12:30 the front lawn of WSC was covered with men and women in black robes claiming cards, adjusting caps, and standing in line waiting for the ceremony to begin. Kathy Villare and Paul McGloughlin led the seniors through the iron gates and onto the field where parents, guests, and students sat under a blistering sun during the three hour ceremony. William Keough, former Iranian hostage, spoke of the benefits of having both a quality education and a pushy mother, and was presented with an honorary degree. More seniors attended this 1981 commencement than had shown in previous years and each one crossed the stage to receive the congratulations of President Orze plus a blank diploma (diplomas would be mailed later) and returned to his or her seat a Worcester State College graduate, Class of 1981.

WORCESTER

As a freshman commuting to Worcester State College I would drive everyday down Int. 495 to 290, get off at exit 13, drive up Madison St., then Chandler St. and finally pull into the campus after forty-five minutes and several red lights. After a while I got brave and started taking different exits and routes to and from the college and realized that going to school at Worcester State involved more than just the experiences found on campus. I found that it's impossible to drive anywhere in the city without hitting a red light; you can't take an art course at WSC without researching a report at the Art Museum; and a social drink ment College Night at Leitruns, The Pub, The Blarney Stone . . . Other off campus activities included hitting MacDonalds or Arby's at least once a week to ward off starvation, making a trip to Crowley's to cash a check (or possibly make a purchase), and a visit to everyone's favorite place to shop, Spags. Though Spags is in Shrewsbury everybody in Worcester had made the perilous trek down Rte. 9 at least once in search of the bargain of his life. Worcester has elements that are uniquely her own; Bancroft Towers, the Higgins Armory, the City Hall built in 1898 that is situated across Main St. from a modern tower of glass, and the Civic Center that has been under construction now for four years. Though Worcester is the second largest city in New England, she has a warm friendly atmosphere that is more like a town, and having driven through, eaten, drank, explored, and lived here for four years, I've aquired a fondness for this city. I consider her a second home and Worcester will always hold warm memories for me.
